REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIERS OF ADAIR.

(BY H. C. BAKER)

I have before me a record book of the Adair county court covering the year 1832, which contains much material of historic interest to many families of the county. We all desire to know something of our ancestors and of the services rendered by them especially if those services were for the good of the country and age in which they lived. This old record book and others in the office give valuable information in this respect, especially as regards the early settlers of the county and the part they performed in the war of the Revolution—many of whom were pioneers of Adair.

By an act of Congress of date June 7th, 1832, pensions were granted to the Revolutionary soldiers, and they were required to make a declaration and proof before some court of record in order to establish their identity.

In addition to the soldiers whose names I will give in these papers, there were doubtless many others in the county who died before 1832 and in consequence they are not found in the records of the court.

The first one to make proof of his claim was John Goode who was then 83 years old. He states that he enlisted in the year 1780 in the State of Virginia in the company commanded by Capt. John Bohanon, regiment commanded by Col. Taylor, and that he continued to serve until after the capture of Cornwallis, when he was discharged in Albemarle county, Va. His application was made under acts of Congress of 1818 and 1820.

The next to file proof of identity was Daniel Trabue, of Columbia. He was one of the founders of said town and was for many years a member of the county court, and otherwise prominently connected with the affairs of the county. He gives his age as 72 years, and was born in Chesterfield county, Va. His first services were in the summer of 1776 when he was called to guard the magazine at Williamsburg. In the same year he was called out for service against Dunnmore who was on the James river.

In the fall or winter of 1777 he enlisted for a tour West under James Trabue. After a very cold and difficult tour he arrived at Boonsborough fort. A part of the company having come on before was taken prisoners by the Indians with Col. Boone at Bluelicks a few days before his (Trabue's) arrival.

He came on to Logan's Fort, and was appointed commissary for the Fort. It was made his duty to visit the forts at the falls of the Ohio and at Harrodsburg and Boonesborough to examine the accounts of the commissary at those points. In 1779 he returned to Virginia to assist Col. CalLOWAY in bringing out ammunition, and brought out forty pack horse loads. In January or February 1781, he volunteered under Col. Haskins to meet the enemy who were in the neighborhood of Richmond. He was in an engagement at Petersboro in Gen. Muhlenburg's command which commenced at sunrise and continued till midday. He was appointed by Col. Goode to deliver dispatches to Lafayette, which service he performed, at great risk, being pursued very close by a body of Tarlton's Light Horse, and escaped them by taking refuge in the woods. He was then sent with a flag of truce to the enemy to deliver clothing and money to prisoners captured by them, and in order to render this service he was commissioned as captain. This was his last service in the war.

Jeremiah Ingram, aged 73, enlisted in 1776 in the 15th Virginia Regiment of the Virginia line in Woodford's brigade. During his service he was at Petersburg, Williamsburg, Alexandria, Georgetown, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Wilmington, etc., was in winter quarters at Valley Forge; was with Washington when he met Gen. Lee on his retreat from Monmouth Court House, and was an eye witness of the battle from beginning to end. He was at Stony Point the day after the battle was fought there, and was also at West Point, and White Plains, New York. He served three years, and left the service in the year 1779.

He did not see his shadow here.

Two Fast Games.

Lovers of basket ball had the pleasure last Wednesday and Thursday evenings of witnessing two of the fastest games ever pulled off in this town. The visiting team was from Cumberland College, Williamsburg, a fine set of young men, who conducted themselves most admirably while in our midst.

The first game was between the visitors and the High School quintet, played in the latter's Gym, the building being crowded with friends of the High School, who were anxious for the home boys to land the prize.

The whistle blew at 7:30 and the contest was on. The teams seemed to be evenly matched, the playing being fast and exciting. At the close of the first half the score stood 12 to 13 in favor of Cumberland College. Ten minutes rest and a little rubbing of joints, stimulated the boys and they started with even more rapidity than in the first half. Every inch of the court was contested and when time was called the score stood 25 to 26 in favor of the visitors.

It is just to state that one of the High School boys made a mistake in the last run, throwing a goal for the Cumberland College boys, which, under the rules, had to be counted in favor of the visitors. Had this not occurred the game would have closed in favor of the home boys.

Thursday night the visitors moved over to and greeted the Lindsey-Wilson team in the latter's Gym. At 7:45 this contest started, and like the one across the way, it was fast and frequently furious, but perfect tranquility prevailing, and at the close of the first half there was much speculation as to the final result. When the second half opened the Lindsey had Cum. College bested by three scores, 17 to 14. The game proceeded, each side gaining slowly until about two minutes before time would be called, and at this juncture Cumberland College had to its credit twenty-four scores, the Lindsey-Wilson nineteen. Something had to be done and done quickly in order for the home team to win, every player bending all the strength he could possibly command, and as their friends cheered, the players made scores, and when time was called the result footed up 29 scores for Lindsey-Wilson, 26 for the Cumberland College. There is not a doubt but these two games were the fastest ever played here.

Mr. Edgar Reed was the referee for both contests and the umpire was P. R. Jones, of Cumberland College.

For Sale.

A few trios of my thoroughbred White Faced Black Spanish chickens, one and two years old, at a bargain. Also eggs for hatching at 75 cents for 15. Send your order early.

The Presbyterian church is trying the plan of holding cottage prayer-meetings on Wednesday nights instead of going to the church. The meeting this week will be with Mrs. Ann Lizzie Walker. It is hoped that every Presbyterian will feel a personal interest in making these prayer-meetings helpful in studying the Bible and in drawing closer together socially.

The sale put on by Mr. T. C. Taylor, for McKinney & Co., Jamestown, was a success in every particular. There were seventeen helpers in the store the two first days, all busy. The sale is still on with a satisfactory trade daily.

The Cumberland College Basket ball team defeated Campbellsville by a score of 17 to 12. At St. Mary's the Cumberland boys were defeated by a score of 36 to 8.

The business and social meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society will be held at the home of Mr. Ray Flowers, Tuesday evening, February 8, at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. S. W. Beck, of Campbellsville, was conveyed to Louisville the first of the week, for an operation.

On account of the cold, disagreeable weather, but few people attended county court Monday.

Voice From Bradfordville.

Editor News:

I left home a few days ago for Taylor, Green and Adair counties, looking for some young cattle. Had quite a pleasant trip, excepting the mud I encountered. The roads were something awful. I was frequently a load for two horses.

I do not believe Adair county, filled as it is, with the best people on earth, will stand idle much longer, but will go to work to better conditions. Enterprise, energy and industry is all that is needed to start the ball rolling. For the working people, the poor people, it would be a money making issue—bonds or any other plan to furnish that class with work through the off seasons; and as the men who own property and have money would have the most to pay, let them pay it, then ride it out in automobiles and rubber tier buggies. The working people could then haul their produce over good roads.

I am now over three score and five, and do not expect to make many more trips to Adair county, but to show you that I feel interest in my native county, I make this proposition: If you will undertake to build five first-class pikes toward the five adjoining county seats, to-wit, Liberty, Jamestown, Edmonton and Greensburg, to the Adair county line, for the ones you finish I will contribute $100 or $500 for the five roads. Let your own people, according to ability, do likewise, or raise the amount by bonds and taxation—anyway that suits best. Do something, start something. Remember that I am not a citizen of the county, and in all probability will not visit you a dozen more times during the remainder of my life. Get busy and show the world that you will no longer drag behind; that you want to arrange for yourselves and for your children and grandchildren to get out of the mud. If you will do as I have suggested in less than ten years you will have good pikes leading in every direction from Columbia.

Very truly,

J. C. Yates

Pianos and Player-Pianos.

When contemplating buying a Piano or Player-Piano call and get my prices. I can save you money by getting what you want direct from Factory. See my catalogue before you buy.

Mrs. Goe E. Wilson, Phone 71. Columbia, Ky. 15-tf

Tobacco Market Good.

The receipts of the Greensburg Loose Leaf market for the past week continued heavy and strong on both dark and burley. One crop of 800 pounds of Cantrill & Elmore made an average of $24.00 per hundred. Several other crops made an average of from 12 to 18 cents. Several crops of dark tobacco made an average of 700 to 850, $11.50 being highest price paid. We now have on our floor for Monday's sale two hogsheads rejected in Louisville and shipped to this market, also a number of hogsheads prized for hogsheads market will be handled on our floor the coming week. Bring us your tobacco and we will send you home with a fat check and smile on your face.

J. C. Yates, of Bradfordville, bought of Curt Yarberry, this county, five yearling mules for $675. A big price for five mule colts, but they were good ones.

Mrs. Ruthie Bryant died Thursday of last week. She was 87 years old. A short obituary will appear in the News next week.

New Law Firm.

Judge H. C. Baker and Mr. W. A. Coffey have formed a partnership in the practice of law and have opened an office in the Tutt building. Judge Baker needs no introduction to the people of this section of the State as a lawyer, having been a practitioner almost since he reached his majority. As a constitutional lawyer he ranks with the best in the State, and is a gentleman who does not neglect business intrusted to him. A few years ago he was chosen Circuit Judge of this district, serving acceptably for six years. Since he went off the bench he has not attempted to engage actively in the practice—been spending his time visiting his children, who live in this and other States. He is in love with his profession, and feels that it is his privilege and pleasure to again enter the practice.

Mr. Coffey is comparatively a young man, a little past forty, and has been practicing since he went out of the post office. He is a gentleman of splendid ability and is forcing to the front as a lawyer. He has a legal mind, is studious and reliable, a gentleman who has many friends in Adair and adjoining counties, and we predict that the above named firm will receive its share of the legal business in this section.

Mr. W. F. Allison, of this county, and Miss Capatola Webb, of Webb's X Roads, Russell county, were married last Sunday afternoon at the home of Eld. Z. T. Williams, this city. Both the groom and bride were former students in the Lindsey-Wilson. The groom is an industrious young man, one who has many friends. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Webb, Russell county, and is a very deserving and popular young woman.

A cottage in the town of Columbia, close to Graded School.

Dr. H. W. Depp.

We commence this week the publication of local historical events, written by Judge H. C. Baker, who is a ready writer, and we feel sure that the articles will prove of much interest to the readers of The News. An article will appear each week running perhaps a couple of months or longer.

There is a black male Berkshire hog at my place. Will weigh about one hundred pounds. The owner can have same by paying for his keeping and paying for this advertisement.

15-1t. Arthur Morrison, Gadberry, Ky.

No one need not feel that a risk is being taken in coming to Columbia, on account of the small-pox that was reported at the jail. Three colored men who were in the bastile, and who were broken out, have recovered and the quarantine order has been raised.

Boys' and girls' teams of the Baptist Academy, of Campbellsville, will play the boys and girls of Columbia High School next Friday night. Game will be called at 7:30. Every body invited to come out.

Mrs. Scott Montgomery sold one black aberdeen 4 year old heifer last week for $45.

Birthday Dinner.

On last Wednesday, February 2nd, 1916, Mrs. Annie E. Walker celebrated her birthday by entertaining a few of her friends, who are almost the same age as herself, two of them being just the same.

Those invited were: Mrs. Mary Caldwell, Mrs. A. G. Todd, Miss Eliza Todd, Mrs. W. T. McFarland, Mrs. B. F. Taylor, Mrs. Nannie Johnson. The two last named failed to get there, which we all regretted very much.

After a splendid dinner which was enjoyed immensely, we spent the afternoon in pleasant conversation and at fancy work—tatting in the lead. Mrs. Jim Willie Walker was a very pleasant addition to our number in the afternoon. Mrs. Walker and her sister, Miss Sallie Diddle, sure made the day delightful for us, and we will not soon forget.

And now dear friends between me and you.

We are growing old at sixty-two, But may our Father who always hears, Lengthen our days to several more years,

And may we all when the time flies away

Have the pleasure of meeting next ground hog day.

Another year has rolled away, Another mile stone passed, Oh! may we all be happy here, And meet in heaven at last.

A Guest.

The groom was born in Columbia and has forged to the front as a business man, being at this time assistant cashier of a bank in his home town. The News very pleasantly remembers him as a boy, and in advance of the happy event, sends congratulations.

Mr. Zach Beard, of Milltown, met with a stroke of paralysis the latter part of last week, and at this date he is reported as improving.

WAR SITUATION.

The position of the British Government on two matters of prime importance in the conduct of the war is to be determined as a result of proceedings under way to-day. The attitude of labor toward compulsory military service will be decided at the great conference meeting in Bristol. The debate on the question of a blockade of Germany is before the House of Commons.

The Bristol conference is the most important of this kind ever held in England, representing more than 2,000,000 members of trades unions. The compulsory military service bill having passed the House of Commons and encountered little opposition in the House of Lords, the outcome of the long campaign on this issue will depend largely on the attitude of organized labor. Although great opposition to compulsion developed at the London labor conference, it is believed this feeling has died down to a considerable extent since that time.

There are intimations, unofficial in nature, that the British Government has decided against a formal blockade of Germany. It is pointed out in English newspapers which reflect the views of the Government that such a blockade might weaken Great Britain's hands and increase friction with neutrals.

The Austrian drive down the eastern coast of the Adriatic, having passed beyond the Montenegrin border, is now said to have resulted in the capture of an Albanian seaport, San Giovanni di Medua. Rome advices indicate that the Italian Government is concerned at the extension of Austrian influence southward along the Adriatic, but there are no indications that further measures to oppose the Teutonic forces under way. It is said no alarm is felt in Rome for Avlona, which has been occupied by Italian troops, or for Durazzo, in the hands of Essad Pasha, Provisional President of Albania, who has cast his lot with the Entente Allies.

To-day's official reports show no important changes on any of the other fronts. The German War Office announces the failure of French attacks in an effort to recapture positions taken by the Germans near Neuville. Infantry fighting occurred at the point, but elsewhere the western front there was little activity.

British possession of territory protecting the Suez canal route at its southern end is imperiled by attacks made by large bodies of Arabs and Turks on the British forces in Southwestern Arabia, according to advices from German sources. The British have been driven from all the territory they held in that section of country and have suffered extremely heavy losses in the fighting, the reports declare, the figures being given at 15,000 killed and 20,000 wounded.

The implication from the Berlin dispatch carrying these reports is that the British army of 20,000 men is now virtually cooped up in Aden, near the entrance to the Red Sea, which must be held if the southern approach to the Suez canal is to be protected.

A situation quite similar to this was reported through German agencies several weeks ago, but London then announced officially that no apprehensions were entertained of the outcome of the operations, which had been merely in the nature of skirmishes.

The Austrians, having secured possession of virtually all of Montenegro, whose remaining defenders, according to Vienna, are fast laying down their arms, are pushing southward in Albania, but apparently are moving deliberately, although without encountering much resistance. Their road down the Adriatic seacoast leads them to Durazzo, following their occupation of San Giovanni di Medua but advices from Albania indicate that their progress is likely to be slow, owing to the condition of the roads.

At last accounts the Bulgarian forces co-operating with the Austrians had encountered the Albanian troops under Essad Pasha, and, according to unofficial advices, had met with a defeat at the latter's hands.

The great Trade Union Congress at Bristol, England, to-day passed by an overwhelming vote a resolution declaring against the adoption of conscription in any form as "against the spirit of British democracy" and as endangering the people's liberties.

According to a statement made by M. Longuet, a French Socialist Deputy, at the British trade union conference in Bristol to-day, the French losses in the war have been 800,000 killed, 1,400,000 wounded and 300,000 captured.

Emperor William's fifty-seventh birthday was celebrated throughout Germany, the most notable incident occurring at general headquarters, where the Emperor received the congratulations of many notables.

Vatican circles, according to a Rome dispatch, have received reports that Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, who was taken ill recently, is rapidly growing worse.

Colds Need Attention.

Internal throat and chest troubles produce inflammation, irritation, swelling or soreness and unless checked at once, are likely to lead to serious trouble. Caught in time Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey loosens the phlegm and destroys the germs which have settled in the throat or nose. It is soothing and healing. Pine is antiseptic; honey is soothing—both together possess excellent medicinal qualities for fighting cold germs. Insist on Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. 25¢ at Paull Drug Co.

Editor News:

I have been thinking for some time, that I would write a short letter to the News, but have put it off. We have had some real cold weather here. 20 degrees below on Jan. 9th, and remained zero weather for more than a week. It is warm and so muddy that you can't hardly get around now. I left Dunnville, Casey county, last March and came to this State. I like alright and am going to remain another year at least, but will not farm, as I failed to rent a place, and will embark in the poultry trade, as the huxters are not so thick here as in Adair and Casey. We made fine crops here last year, with good prospects for 1916 I guess I had better close for fear this finds the waste basket.

Respt. Yours,
G. L. Harmon.

"On December first I had a very severe cold or attack of the grippe as it may be, and was nearly down sick in bed," writes O.J. Metcalf, Weatherby, Mo. "I bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it was only a few days until I was completely restored to health. I firmly believe that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is one of the very best medicines and will know what to do when I have another cold. For sale by Paull Drug Co."

Hogwallow News.

Cricket Hicks, who is noted for his strict neutrality, has a French harp he'd like to dispose of.

Frisby Hancock has already made up his mind not to raise a crop next summer as the ground is too wet.

Washington Hock's calf has returned home after a pleasant stay in the Bounding Billows neighborhood.

Dock Hocks don't care anything about the high price of sugar so long as Miss Flutie Belcher remains single.

Mrs. Isaac Hellwanger was at the postoffice Thursday inspecting a lot of stamps with a view of buying one in a few days.

The Old Miser of Musket Ridge is letting the fire die down in his fireplace and warms his feet in the cook stove. The smoke wears out his chimney.

There is a movement on foot to fill up the big gully near the postoffice, but on account of the scarcity of dirt the work may have to be delayed.

Frisby Hancock one day this week swapped the finest shotgun that was ever brought to this section for a cow that gives more milk than anybody else's.

At the dance in the Calf Ribs neighborhood the other night Raz Barlow got so tired talking to Miss Hostetter Hocks he had to put his chin rest back on his fiddle.

Miss Hostetter Hocks, who is probably the nicest lady in Hogwallow, shocked F. Henstep this week by raising only her eyebrows when she crossed a muddy place in the road.

Poke Eazley spent several hours at the Hog Ford still one day this week explaining to bystanders why so many people failed and had weak stomachs the next morning. It was an illustrated talk.

It is to be hoped that the dirt-daubers will not take the liberty that they did last winter by carrying mud from the road into the Hog Ford church and building their nests on the ceiling. By all means this should be stopped.

Tobe Mosely says that while he is a Democrat and always drinks the same way and while he is glad the election went Democratic in Hogwallow, he believes he will get more direct personal benefits out of the two possums he got night before last.

Raz Barlow has blossomed forth in a new role, having accepted a lucrative position with a large Department House in Chicago. His position consists in selling and while he is not on a salary the remuneration is good, as he will receive a handsome watch charm as soon as he disposes of 75 boxes of perfume.

The excelsior Fiddling Band has ordered a gross of music from Chicago. The shipment consists of selections that different ones have asked them to play.

The Deputy Constable, who went to the headwaters of Gander creek this week looking for a law-breaker, has sent word on ahead that he will float down the creek on a raft, as he can travel that way without making any noise.

Sim Flinders is repairing the gaps in the rail fence adjoining the postoffice. The gaps were made by Poke Eazley, champion whittler, the past summer.

A man came to Tickville the other day soliciting help, a nickel at a time. He uses a crutch now in soliciting, and reports business fairly good. He posed as a blind man for a while, but that profession is becoming so crowded there is not much above a living in it for anybody.

Fletcher Henstep had the misfortune to lose his large Waterbury watch this week. It will be easy to locate if anybody gets in ticking distance of it.

Unless more trees are planted in this vicinity there will, in a few years, be a famine of stumps, and nothing would be more sadly missed than these blessings, which can be enjoyed by the poor man without molestation. A movement is soon to be started by our stalwart organization, the Howallow Improvement Association, for the planting of more trees, and it should be encouraged by all of our citizens. In the early days of Hogwallow there was a supply of timber in this section plenty ample to afford both shade for those who were warm in the summer and heat for those cold in the winter. But our citizens have had a tendency in the past few years to cut down too much of the timber in order that they could have more stumps for immediate and convenient use, upon which to sit and rest. Now, in our round Hogwallow, it is true, as Poke Eazley says, that there are still many substantial stumps, but at the present rate of usage they will, within a few years, be extinct. Then, with the passing of the rail fence and the stump, where can the tired man repose? Nowhere but at home in a chair, which is civilization carried to an extreme.

The bill to create a new county out of part of Pike, to be named Stanley, for the Governor, failed to pass the Senate.

The Kentucky Legislature is now about half way to the conclusion, and but very few bills have been passed. The main bills passing will come the last week of the session.

The Jim Crow street car bill will likely become a law, but it will apply only to the city of Louisville. This means that in the Falls City the colored element and the whites will ride the street cars in separate cars.

President Wilson was greeted by tremendous crowds at all his appointments, and from the reports of his speeches, his hearers were well pleased, endorsing his utterances by giving prolonged applause.

After a trial lasting four weeks, a jury acquitted Mrs. Elizabeth F. Mohr, at Providence R. I., upon the charge of instigating the murder of her husband. The two negroes indicted with her were convicted.

By a vote of 57 to 38 the House, last Wednesday unseated "Uncle Bill" Allen, Republican from Clinton and Wayne counties, in favor of S. C. Dobbs, Democrat. F. C. Greene, L. B. Hamilton and W. B. Harvey, Democrats, voted for "Uncle Bill" to retain his seat.

Wm. Yowell, who sued the Hood estate for $24,666, was given a judgment at Lebanon for $2,500. This is not the exact amount he will receive, the Circuit Judge to make an additional allowance after looking over the papers. Yowell's claim was for services rendered in managing Miss Flora Hood's business.

Last week while an effort was being made to create Stanley county out of part of Pike, Senator Robert Antle was approached and virtually offered $1,500 if he would support the bill dividing Pike county. He was told that if he would support the bill "Uncle Bill" Allen, of Clinton county, would be permitted to retain his seat, and if "Uncle Bill" was ousted the $1,500 would be forfeited. Senator Antle who is unapproachable, spurned the offer and squealed. The matter will be given a thorough investigation.

President Wilson's policy of preparedness was greatly strengthened by his speeches on his recent trip, and beyond doubt the large majority of the people believe in a more thorough defensive preparation, and Congress is doubtless in touch with demands. Just how far or in what particulars our government should strengthen its position seems to be the point of issue with those who have the power to do it, but we are headed for a stronger army, a stronger navy and likely a stronger inclination to test the strength after it has the public confidence.

NO TIME FOR A CHANGE.

For his success in keeping this country out of war, President Woodrow Wilson is due a debt of everlasting gratitude from the people of the United States. Few will ever know the trying hours he has spent in pondering over the momentous questions daily arising. And, it must be added, the officials and public men who have backed him up by counsel and other assistance are to be equally congratulated. The fact that he has had almost unanimous support from members of Congress was a great help to Mr. Wilson.

As the situation has daily become more complicated, the more imperative is it that he should have the same friends and supporters in Congress and his official family. No member of the House has been more loyal to President Wilson than has our representative, Harvey Helm, and we doubt if there is a member of Congress who is more ready and willing to support the President.

Great distress in Poland is reported by representatives of American relief organizations who have reached Berlin. The suffering is particularly from lack of shelter and fuel, while typhus and other diseases are prevalent. It is declared that 30 per cent. of the people are dependent upon relief.

The case of the captured British steamer Appam is still under advisement by the State Department. Meanwhile initial steps have been taken for the removal of 224 persons on board whom the Germans prize crew had held as prisoners and who have been granted the right to leave the ship, the Appam anchored off Newport News to facilitate the process.

WAR SITUATION.

Intense artillery activity along the Franco-Belgian front, reported in a German official statement, may presage another important offensive movement in this field by one side or the other. London appears to hold the view that the initiative just now will be with the Germans, who may try to break through and gain Calais.

Berlin, on the other hand, indicates that the French may have a plan in view to recoup their losses of territory near Neuville, which they obtained recently, as their artillery fire in this sector is reported as increasingly heavy, possibly presaging an infantry movement.

The Germans report occupying two British mine craters near Hullock and shooting down a British and a French aeroplane near Perrone. Paris records a German attack on the French positions north of the Aisne near the village of Bois.

The Germans are continuing their submarine activities in the North Sea, according to a dispatch from The Netherlands, recording the torpedoing of the Dutch motor vessel Artemis in those waters. The Artemis put into the Hook of Holland leaking from London comes announcement of the sinking of the British steamer Belle of France, of 3,876 tons, last reported at a port in India. Nineteen lascars from her crew are missing.

Although military operations on the Western front as well as in most of the other main theaters of war, are virtually at a halt, London apparently is expecting a new move soon by the Germans in Northern France and Flanders.

Press comment indicates a belief that an offensive movement on a large scale is in course of preparation, the Germans expecting by the use of masses of artillery and infantry to blast a way to Calais, on the English channel.

Latest reports on the situation along this front, however, shows little but artillery firing, grenade fighting and similar minor operations.

Editor News:-

In mention of old acquaintances, I often leave out people for whom I cherish a very sincere friendship. Among these are the sons of the lamented Joe Coffey and Mr. Coffey himself. Of course some people were too old to be my associates, and among them may be mentioned Dr. William Voils of tender memory, and Dr. James Gadberry. Dr. Voils, if living, would now be aged one hundred and eight years, and Dr. Gadberry one hundred and two. When I was a boy I heard them both call Luther Wilmore, now of Bogard, Mo., "Old man Wilmore" and "Uncle" Luther. In Missouri they claim him as a veteran of war in 1812, likewise of the Mexican war. I told the people there that I didn't think he was above eighty, but they said he was older than that when he came to Missouri. Judging from his face and rate of locomotion, I did not think him to be above 85, but the people of Bogard claimed him as the oldest man in Missouri and a freak of longevity. I noticed, however, that when some one helped him into a buggy or an auto, he could get about as well as ever.

I am tolerably well acquainted in Bogard, and shall always hold many people there in tender memory.

Old as I am, let Uncle Luther ask Ezra Block if I could see to shoot a rifle without glasses, while I taught at Mandeville.

Ask any body from Mandeville, if I could not walk fairly well.

I have never claimed to be a candidate in a beauty show, nor yet an irresistible heart smasher among the fair and gentler sex.

I plead guilty as to an aged set of features, and won a hat in an ugliness contest. However, homely, men can out class very handsome, "sissy" men, sometimes, when they put the inside of their heads against the outside of others. Despite the physical disabilities of "Uncle" Luther, "With all his faults I love him still."

There was also another voice from the West in which I recognized the merry bazoo of John M. Logan formerly of Kentucky, and my Confederate in crime in the Hichcocks Analysis Banditti. Tell John that C. B. Lattimore, Walter Lattimore, Lawson Eaves and all the old shouting contingent at Clover Hill church hold him in tender memory. You can further assure him that Clover Hill is now a spacious, nicely painted building, and that Miss Cora Morris, daughter of one of his patrons at Hopkin's Hill, but she was too young to be his pupil, is a good teacher and a fine organist. Tell him, further, that nearly all of his old sweethearts in this State are widows.

John cut such a thorough here that every body took him for a Mormon missionary. Let the fact be proclaimed from the rooftops, that Hayden Baker, formerly of that classic region known as Union, in Aair county, is a famous teacher some where in Mecklenburg, the best county in North Carolina. I met him at an Old Time Fiddler's Convention at Charlotte, on Thanksgiving day of 1914. He did not compete as a fiddler, but lent the occasion his presence and moral support.

As usual I am still teaching school. I have 54 in my room, and nearly all present every day.

On Saturday night, January 15, 1916, we had a box supper and popularity contest among young ladies. The boxes eighteen in number, sold for $22.25; while two young young ladies, one from Polkville and the other of my school, were contestants. My school girl won by a scratch, and the receipts were $16.66 in this contest, making an aggregate of $38.66. The night was sleety and otherwise inclement, or $50 could have been realized.

Tell all and sundry that I hope to be in Kentucky as soon as Germany whips England, and I hope for an early realization of my hopes. I greatly admire President Wilson, but we need good roads and good schools worse than we need bigger armies and navies. We licked England when half of the people were Loyalists, in Revolution, and licked her again in 1812, when New England gave us no assistance. New England has made cotton, that makes the treaties of the world and binds the nations over to keep the peace, contraband of war. This has been disastrous to the cotton growers of the South, and will hurt other sections. Every trust-ridden paper, every maker of arms and ammunition; every steel magnate is weeping crocodile tears for the "Mother country" (?)

Hurrah for Bryan and Germany! I see that Billy whose surname is Sunday is clamoring for a bigger army and navy. I am for peace, but will try to enlist by the time Billy and the defamers of Bryan toe the firing line. Judging from the tone of the jingo papers, Bryan is an old granny who always hides when the eagle on old Glory drops the olive branch of peace and grasps the arrow of war. When the present war lords were hid out and predicting a ten year war with Spain, Bryan was wearing the apaulets of a colonel and drilling his men. Let a war result from present complications, and history will repeat itself. The men parading before the footlights, wrapped in the American Flag and flourishing a horse pistol, will get out of the way and men who deplore and oppose war will do the fighting.

Napoleon the Great and Gen. Sherman were competent authority on war. Napoleon said,

"War is the business of barbarians" while Sherman said, "War is hell."

We have the second best navy in the world, and the best marksmen, both as to small arms and artillery. The money spent in carrying on the Civil War, would have paid for every slave; but money cannot restore the flower of chivalry that perished in that awful conflict.

Something like six million lives have been sacrificed in the disastrous European war; and the expenditure of treasure has passed into quadrillions. Does that look like the kingdom of Christ on earth? Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war, and future generations will rise up and call Bryan blessed.

Watering City Trees.

A very ingenious and practical device for assuring the trees on city sidewalks a sufficient supply of water, no matter how dry the season and how hard baked the earth, has recently been put in operation in Strasburg. It consists of a tube of iron or lead bent into the form of a ring large enough to encircle the stem of the tree. The earth is removed so that this ring may be placed just above the roots, and is then filled in again, leaving the end of a pipe connecting the ring projecting above the surface of the ground. The top of the ring is pierced with a large number of small holes, and a tin cover or shield prevents these from becoming stopped up with earth. By means of a funnel in the protruding end of the pipe any desired amount of water may be supplied to the roots without waste or loss of time. A further advantage is the ventilation thus secured of the earth in the vicinity of the roots.

Mervin H. Soister, Berkeley, Cal., writes: "Last Saturday, after tramping around the Panama Exposition with wet feet, I came home with my neck so stiff that I couldn't turn. I applied Sloan's Liniment freely and went to bed. To my surprise, next morning, the stiffness had almost disappeared, four hours after the second application I was as good as new."

How Canada was Named.

Even a child will talk correctly about the "Commonwealth" of Australia, or the Indian "Empire," and no one would apply either of those terms to Canada. Canadians are accustomed to take the expression of the "Dominion" of Canada for granted; but the origin of that somewhat unusual term is known to very few.

When the great scheme of Sir John Macdonald was finally realized, and the nine provinces grouped themselves together into one great confederation, a serious difficulty was presented by the choice of a suitable name. For a time almost a deadlock ensued.

At length one old member of Parliament rose from his seat and told his colleagues that he had read in his Bible that very morning the words: "His dominion shall be from the one sea to the other." Accordingly he suggested that Canada should be known as the Dominion, or God's land. The suggestion seized upon the hearts and imaginations of those present, and it was promptly acted upon.

Make Fools of Themselves

Not infrequently great inventors do not comprehend the significance of the thing they have produced. An interesting anecdote of two famous men of science whose foresight did not equal their inventive ability follows.

When Hertz first began to obtain satisfactory results from his now famous researches into the possibility of transmitting electric waves certain men of science suggested that some day similar vibrations might serve to transmit message through space.

Hertz laughed at the hypothesis, and assured all comers that his experiments were for laboratories only.

Now, after a few short years, it is hard to find a single issue of a daily paper that does not record some noteworthy example of the use of wireless telegraphy.

Levassor was the great engineer who sketched the motor-car with such skill that his design has not been materially changed to this day. After Levassor accomplished his historic trip from Paris to Bordeaux and return, at the dizzy speed of 15 miles an hour, his admirers gave him a banquet.

During the toasts, one of them stirred by the spirit of the occasion, rose and enthusiastically called on the assembly to drink to the approaching day when carriages should travel at rate of 60 miles an hour. Levassor turned to his nearest neighbor and asked, in a quick undertone, "Why is it that after every banquet some people feel called on to make fools of themselves?"

War Upon Pain!

Pain is a visitor to every home and usually it comes quite unexpectedly. But you are prepared for every emergency if you keep a small bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy. It is the greatest pain killer ever discovered. Simply laid on the skin—no rubbing required—it drives the pain away. It is really wonderful.

The complete evacuation of the Gallikoli Peninsula by the English and French troops has taken place. According to London reports it was accomplished with the loss of only one man, while the Turks claim that the Allies suffered huge losses with nine guns and the sinking of a transport.

Odd Customs in Russia.

To ninety-nine girls out of a hundred the most important duty in life is choosing a husband. Methods of choice vary a good deal, of course, chiefly perhaps as between town and country-bred maidens.

To the town or suburban girl a man's clothes count almost for everything. The bride is to the best dressed. The cut of a coat or the color of a cravat weighs more with Clara than character.

Her country cousin, on the other hand, knows better than to pin her faith to a tailor's dummy. She is guided in her choice occult signs. By agitating with her hand the water in a bucket she can see the image of her future spouse. If she desires confirmation she has only to throw broken eggs over a friend's head and the same image will appear.

The peasant girls of Russia arrive at a similar result by seating themselves in front of a small looking-glass in a semi-dark room, when a vision of their future lord and master will be certain to present itself.

Once a year an exceptional opportunity occurs. At 12 o'clock Christmas eve every girl who can contrive to steal out in order to ask the first man she meets his name. Whatever he gives is that of the bridegroom-to-be.

A seventeen year old white girl has been arrested at Pikeville charged with bootlegging.

If it is true that there can be no peace without justice, probably Henry Ford returned to get a Justice of the Peace.

The Youngstown Ohio rioting and destruction of property is entirely under control of the military authorities. There is serious talk of deporting a number of foreigners who led to the destruction of nearly a million of property and were leaders in the rioting among the striking steel operative.

The sick people all in this section are getting better and no new cases of small-pox developed. The people down this way are scared more from the bad roads that we have to contend with at this time than they are from small-pox.

Miss Dewey Harper is visiting her sister, Mrs. Sexton, near Campbellsville, at this time.

The Edward part came from a request of some of Mr. Janes' very eminent republican friends. While Mr. Janes is an all around good fellow and a true blue democrat, he consented to let the latter part of the name be attached for the benefit of his republican friends. The boy of course will be a true blue democrat as his father is.

We are beginning to hear the citizens of Jamestown talk in favor of a High School building which sounds good to us. Other counties have high schools and colleges. So why can't we? People that are attending school in different parts of the state could now be at home, and doubtless many from other countries would also attend school here.

On Monday, Jan. 31st, at 9 o'clock John Haynes, son of the late J. H. Haynes, or better known as Jack, succumbed to the inevitable and crossed over the cold and silent river of death.

Had he lived until the 9th of March he would have been 59 years old. Early in life he professed faith in Christ and united with the Baptist church from which time he has ever since been a faithful member.
